

Ruby Lee

Lawyer

Bachelor of International Business (UTS)
Bachelor of Laws (UTS)
Graduate Diploma in Professional Legal Practice (UTS)
International Human Rights Law (GWU)

Email: rl@nexuslawyers.com.au
Telephone: +61 (2) 9016 0141

Areas of expertise

Commercial Law
Construction & Infrastructure
Commercial disputes & litigation

Previous experience

Medibank Health Solutions (Garrison)
University of Technology Sydney
Federal Court of Australia

Overview

Ruby is a lawyer with commercial experience who sits within Nexus' litigation team.

Prior to joining Nexus, Ruby worked with an in-house legal team in Sydney on the successful delivery of government funded health services nationwide to the Australian Defence Force, RAAF and Navy. During this time, she gained experience working as part of a team on contractor/subcontractor disputes, compliance and overall contract management and delivery.

Ruby previously worked in the Federal Court of Australia and has extensive experience supporting a wide range of clients from small businesses, government bodies, ASX listed companies, charitable organisations and construction developers.

Ruby actively seeks to identify innovative solutions to meet her client's business drivers and having practised in government, in-house and private practice, she is well placed to provide commercial insight and technically excellent legal advice.

Select Expertise

- Successfully managing compliance and dispute liquidated damages claims under the Garrison Health Services Contract.
- Front end construction experience – reviewing and drafting contracts and agreements.
- Back end construction experience - litigation and dispute resolution management.
- Advisory on PPSR measures and enforcement of PPSR.
- Client relationship management skills to negotiate interests between disputing parties and achieve client desired outcomes.

